

People

£10k funding for country's first ethnic food bank in Bedford

By Anna Whelan Contributor

Published 5th Jun 2023, 12:23 GMT
Updated 5th Jun 2023, 12:23 GMT

Watch more of our videos on ShotsTV.com and on Freeview 262 or Freely 565 Visit Shots! now

Ethnic minority families are twice as likely to suffer from food insecurity

The country's first ethnic food bank in Bedford has received £10k in funding – and is well on its way to being a permanent support system in the town.

The funding, granted by Bedford Luton Community Foundation (BCLF) from the Frank Branston Fund, will buy equipment including office and IT equipment, shelving and dollies for moving crates for the food bank. The Ethnic Food Bank was developed by Dr Nadeem Mazi-Kotwal, and Dr Minaz Mazi-Kotwal – a Bedford GP, who had feedback from some patients that there was little diversity in the food available at food banks, making it harder to create appropriate or familiar meals.

The project aims to provide free, nutritionally balanced, and culturally appropriate food to people in hardship or distress, who are referred by a network of partner agencies.

Far left, Fsella Afzal-Pagliari, bpha. Back far left, Dr Nadeem Mazi-Kotwal Centre, wearing black headscarf, Dr Minaz Mazi-Kotwal Centre right, wearing blue headscarf, Rumina Begum, Ethnic Food Bank co-founder.

Bedford is a multi-ethnic town with a BAME population of 35.87 per cent, as recorded by the 2021 Census. The Runnymede Trust reports that 46 per cent of children from black and ethnic minority families are growing up in poverty. And Food Foundation has stated that ethnic minority families are twice as likely to be suffering from food insecurity – having smaller meals or skipping meals due to unaffordability.

RECOMMENDED READS

POWERED BY mantis

Cyclist killed following collision with bus in Wixams	Fancy hosting a VE Day street party in Bedford? Here's how to apply	Bedford drivers warned to expect delays on A421

“Supporting communities is an important part of what bpha does”, says Fsella Afzal-Pagliari, community engagement officer at bpha.

“My team works directly with organisations and customers in and around Bedford to help deliver services that will directly benefit them, including Bedford Food Bank, with whom we’ve worked for many years. Since last autumn, we’ve been able to help the Ethnic Food Bank team find a suitable base. We’ve also used our network across the town to raise awareness of the project amongst the organisations in touch with people who may need to use the service.

“When an organisation is in its infancy, it can be hard to access funding – it takes time and a knowledge of how best to approach the process, both of which can be tricky when you’re setting up something you’ve never done before. We guided the team through the process, ultimately securing the £10k grant, and we’re delighted for them.”

RECOMMENDED READS

POWERED BY mantis

'We live 10 miles from Bedford and we haven't had any post for NINE WEEKS'	Cyclist killed following collision with bus in Wixams	Fancy hosting a VE Day street party in Bedford? Here's how to apply

Dr Minaz added: “bpha has been helping Ethnic Food Bank since it was just an idea. The team has not only guided us on how to turn it into reality, but also gone beyond this by helping with promotions, networking and now this huge milestone of getting our first ever grant. We’re now able to make a real difference to those in Bedford who need it.”

The Ethnic Food Bank is open at Westbourne Community Centre in Bedford, every Wednesday from 5.30pm to 7.30pm.

You can find out more about being referred to the food bank here and a guide on how to donate food to the food bank here.

Related topics: Bedford Census

This website and its associated newspaper are members of Independent Press Standards Organisation (IPSO)

<h3>Explore</h3> <ul style="list-style-type: none"> News Sport What's On Lifestyle 	<h3>More from Bedford Today</h3> <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Announcements Celebrations Jobs Public Notices Must Read Photo Sales Newspaper Archive 	<h3>Useful Links</h3> <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Contact Us Advertise My Business Place your Ad Submit your story Advertise a Job Subscribe Events Archive Publisher Guidelines
--	---	--